

Re: Recommendation of William Grisolia

I have known William Grisolia for more than ten years initially through his work with Memorial Health Services when I was a manager in the finance department of Long Beach Memorial Medical Center. I am qualified to talk about his professional accomplishments and his core values and attributes. He is savvy, poised, ambitious, driven and energetic.

He is a hands-on international communications professional with unrivaled connections who has created million-dollar businesses, protected billion-dollar businesses, and worked with top political leaders and entertainers. He finds, unlocks and open doors where others have failed.

What kind of person is he and how does this translate into job performance? As a finance professional, I know the bottom line is an outstanding ROI: every organization with whom he's come in contact has benefited and prospered.

He's had experience and success on both the national and international arenas. He is a world-class communicator with people from all walks of life and is an excellent writer and speaker. He has national and international media, business, entertainment, political and government contacts and is able to connect individuals and organizations on a worldwide basis. He passionately lives and breathes relationship management.

I have seen first-hand his creative, out-of-the-box thinking: he created a concert series to help benefit Miller Children's Hospital bringing world-class talent (Dionne Warwick, Johnny Mathis, and Burt Bacharach and paired them with the Long Beach Symphony) to the community, making friends and raising money. He created a nationally-recognized concept in sustainability leading to the sale of millions of dollars of sustainable fish. He is a leader in his community.

You have to talk with him – once you do, you will find him an incredibly strong candidate.

Sincerely,
